DETAILED ACTION

1. The following communication is in response to Applicant's amendment filed 21 December 2006.

Status of Claims

2. Claims 127, 135, 143-145, 154, 163-165, 174, 183-185, 193, 201 and 202 are currently amended. Claims 127-202 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claims 127-134, 143, 145-153, 163, 165-173, 183, 185-192 and 201 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

With respect to claims 127 and 145, the Examiner finds the claim to lack a tangible result. In order to be a tangible result, the process must produce a real-world result. The final step of independent claim 127 states, "requesting an employer of the employee to withdraw the child support obligation from a salary of the employee via the accumulator agency...." This step is not considered tangible because it could be considered to be abstract or merely encompassed in thoughts. Therefore claim 127 does not produce a real world result. Amending the claim to include a step directed towards storing, printing, displaying the "requesting" or something similar would overcome the rejection. Independent claim 145 stands rejected for similar reasons.

Art Unit: 3691

Depending claims 128-134 and 146-153 fail to produce a tangible result and therefore stand rejected for similar reasons.

With respect to claims 165 and 185, the Examiner finds the claim to lack a tangible result. In order to be a tangible result, the process must produce a real-world result. The final step of independent claim 165 states, "providing for the termination of the withdrawal of the child support obligation from the salary of the employee upon receipt of notice that the child support obligation has been satisfied." This step is not considered tangible because it could be considered to be abstract or merely encompassed in thoughts. Therefore claim 165 does not produce a real world result. Independent claim 185 stands rejected for similar reasons.

Depending claims 166-173 and 186-192 fail to produce a tangible result and therefore stand rejected for similar reasons.

With respect to claims 143, 163, 183 and 201, the Examiner finds these claims to be non-statutory. Claim 143 recites in the preamble "A computer readable medium containing instructions for controlling a computer system at an accumulator agency to perform a method for processing through a bank a child support obligation of an employee who is a noncustodial parent to a governmental state entity of the United States, the method comprising." Claim 143 is non-statutory because it is directed towards software, per se, lacking storage on a medium, which enables any underlying functionality to occur. Furthermore, the instructions are not in executable form and therefore there is no practical application. Independent claims 163, 183 and 201 stand rejected for similar reasons.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 135-142, 144, 154-162, 164, 174-182, 184, 193-200 and 202 are allowed.
